

M'CHESNEY WILL SPEAK HERE

Hon. Harry V. McChesney, of Frankfort, to Address Voters of City and County.

It will be good news to the many friends of that sterling young Democrat, Hon. H. V. McChesney, of Frankfort, that Mr. McChesney will address the voters of this section next Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Court House in the interest of the Democratic party. Mr. McChesney can always be found on the firing line when his party needs his services and we know of no better or more interesting talker than he. Do not overlook this opportunity of hearing one of Kentucky's brightest sons. The ladies are especially invited.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Saturday on the Owingsville pike, recently repaired by state aid, Mr. Thos. M. Greene, in some way lost control of his car near the residence of Mrs. Hawes Lane and ran into a bank overturning his machine and badly damaging it. Strange to say Mr. Greene escaped unhurt.

Sunday a negro waiter at the National Hotel got into a Ford runabout belonging to two young men of Winchester and had only run it about a hundred yards when he lost control of it and ran it up on the pavement in front of the Tipton blacksmith shop on Maysville street, and headlong into a pile of lumber stacked in front of the lot formerly occupied by the Pieratt stable. The car was wrecked.

GOOD CROWD AT SPEAKING

Every seat was taken and several were forced to stand up at the Democratic speaking here Saturday night when "Cyclone" Davis, the big Congressman from Texas, addressed the voters of this city and county. Mr. Davis was given a rousing welcome and created considerable enthusiasm by his stirring discourse. He praised President Wilson for his manly and courageous course in handling the many difficult problems that he had been confronted with and urged the people to uphold the hands of our matchless President. He was accompanied by Congressman W. J. Fields of this district.

WILSON'S SPLENDID GUIDANCE OF NATION IS BECKHAM'S THEME

Senator Eloquently Recounts the Great Achievements of the President

CALM COURSE CONTRASTS WITH HUGHES' DELUSIONS

Record of Democratic Administration One of Finest in American History

Senator J. C. W. Beckham opened the campaign for President Wilson in McLean county Saturday before one of the largest audiences that has heard a political speaker in that section of the State in many years.

There have been persistent requests from Western Kentucky that Senator Beckham begin the most important part of his speaking tour in that section of the State, where he has always been very strong politically, and the address made by Kentucky's junior Senator made a fine impression.

Substance of Address

The address of Senator Beckham in part follows:

No party ever came before the American people in a presidential campaign with a better record or a stronger case than the Democratic party presents to the people in this campaign. Democrats confidently and unhesitatingly claim, and intelligent independent voters and many fair-minded Republicans admit, that the administration of our Federal government for the last three and a half years has never been excelled in the history of this country, in the wisdom of its conduct, in the number and importance of its far-reaching and beneficial legislative reforms, in the admirable and patriotic manner in which it has managed our relations with foreign countries under the most difficult and, at times, dangerous circumstances, and in its many splendid achievements for the advancement of the welfare and happiness of the great common people of our land. It has fully justified the faith of those voters who by their suffrage placed it in power nearly four years ago, and by its remarkable course in a momentous period in the world's history, it has won the unreserved approval of that large body of American citizens, who are independent in politics, who are not influenced by partisan prejudices, and who have grown so in numbers and strength in recent years, that they can turn the tide of battle either way in a national election.

Henry Ford's Statement

Henry Ford has been the most remarkable figure in the industrial world for some years. His extraordinary genius has established the largest and most successful manufacturing plant on earth. He has always been a Republican, and in the primaries in his State, Michigan, before the National Republican convention of last June the Republican voters of his State, by a substantial majority, gave him the instructions in that state for the Republican nomination for the presidency, even when he was not a candidate and was not seeking the nomination. Here Mr. Beckham quotes Mr. Ford and continued:

I might quote Thos. A. Edison, Prof. Irving Fisher, and many other leaders of thought, and men of genius and achievement, to the same purpose. But what is the use of adding to what I have already given? Are not the opinions of these men, impartial and uninfluenced by any selfish or partisan motives, worth more to the voters in making up their minds how to vote in the coming election, than the ill-tempered and warlike utterances of Col. Roosevelt, deeply disappointed in his uncontrollable ambition to again wield the big stick from the White House or the childish and petulant attacks against the Democratic administration, made by Judge Hughes, the candidate without an issue?

A Successful Administration

The sober and impartial judgment of a large majority of the intelligent and patriotic people of this country will pronounce that administration to have been unparalleled and conspicuous in its successful conduct of the affairs of the nation. History will so write it, and posterity must commend and praise it, because within these brief years of its existence so far we have come to a turning point in the world's history, and the hand that has guided us through such perilous experiences has kept us in the pathway of peace and safety and progress. Is it wise to take that hand from the helm before we have reached the end of the hard journey? Is it the custom of passengers on a ship, when a pilot has safely carried them through the storm and tempests of the sea, to throw him overboard and substitute in his place an untrained and inexperienced man for the pilot? Does the farmer, or the merchant, or the banker, discharge a faithful and efficient servant, just to give the place to some untried fellow, who happens to want the job? Do you know of any successful business concern that follows the practice of dismissing its manager, who has capably and satisfactorily conducted its business, simply to gratify the appetite of some hungry office seeker?

Then, what reason on earth can there be to displace Woodrow Wilson with Charles E. Hughes, unless it be to satisfy, if possible, the inordinate greed for office of those back of the candidacy of Mr. Hughes? What principle do they represent? Their most resourceful leaders can point to none. What issue do they present? The most powerful political microscope has so far been unable to discover a single one.

Democracy's Cause

The cause of the Democratic party in this campaign should appeal not only to Democrats, but to all good citizens in our land. The great mass of the people, who take no active part in politics, are not interested in the mere victory of one party over another, but they should be deeply interested in the proper administration of their public affairs and in the cause of good government. They should reward that party, or those men, who have well and faithfully served them. They should look upon such matters not as partisans, but as patriots. If this Democratic administration has made the excellent record which many believe it has, then it is entitled to the overwhelming endorsement of the American people. It should be continued in power, not so much as an endorsement of what it has done, but because what it has done has shown it to be superior to its rival in capacity and purpose for further good service to the people.

DEATH OF MR. NOBLE LEDFORD

Relatives here received news last week announcing the death of Mr. Noble Leford, which occurred at his home at Harlan following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Leford had only been ill a week and his condition was not regarded as grave until the operation although his brother, Mr. Henry C. Leford, of this city, was summoned to his bedside. His remains were shipped to this city and buried in McChesney cemetery. The death of Mr. Leford causes much sorrow among a host of warm friends here at his old home. He was a native of Owsley county and fifty-nine years of age and had lived most of his life in this county. For several years he lived in Tennessee but returned to Montgomery a few years ago and was engaged in the real estate business meanwhile studying law. After being admitted to the bar a few months ago he removed to Harlan to practice his profession and was moving rapidly to the front when stricken with appendicitis. He was a gentleman of highest principles and unimpeachable integrity. He was a life-long Republican and took great interest in political affairs. Mr. Leford was unmarried and is survived, besides Mr. Henry Leford, by two other brothers, Mr. Joseph Leford, of Menefee county, and B. F. Leford, of Lincoln county, and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Noe, of Tacoma, Wash. One half brother, Will Leford, of Wolfe county, also survives.

THE CHILD LABOR LAW

Chairman Willeox of the Republican National Campaign Committee says that the Child Labor Law recently passed by the Wilson administration has a joker in it which renders it of no service and a fraudulent bill. Candidate Hughes himself has said that the children of the nation have not been emancipated by this law and repeatedly has sought to belittle and discredit it.

However, Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, in a published letter emphatically protests against such criticisms and says that the bill was carefully drawn and thoroughly considered. It was not jammed through Congress, but had been pending for three years. Both Democrats and Republicans were well represented on the Senate committee that considered it in final form and both Democrats and Republicans stood solidly for it in this form. Only two Republicans, Oliver and Penrose, voted against it. The thirty-day clause was necessary because without it a manufacturer who once employed child labor would be disbarred forever from interstate commerce. He concludes his letter thus:

"The Federal Child Labor Law was framed by the best constitutional lawyers in the country; it was passed by a Congress that had given it close attention."

Senator Albert B. Cummins, Republican of Iowa, asserted that the allegation of there being a joker in this law was without any foundation and stigmatized persons making such allegations as "either insincere or incompetent." He states unreservedly that the Child Labor Law is certain to "effectuate the humane purposes towards which the friends of Child Labor Legislation have for a long time been striving." Senator Cummings has long been an ardent advocate of Child

CHIROPRACTIC A Product of the 20th Century

Chiropactic is in harmony with the inherent forces within the body. The human organism is possessed of, or endowed with, a certain Vital Force which functionates through impulses received from the brain.

It is no disparagement to our system to confess that while we do not know what constitutes the Vital Force of the body it is a positive fact, demonstrated by actual experience upon living subjects, that we are able through Chiropactic adjustments to inhibit or accelerate its action. No other system is so specific, and acting as it does, in perfect harmony with natural forces, it is impossible for it to be productive of anything but good in any circumstance.

If sick or ailing in any way, why not call in and let us explain the application of Chiropactic to your condition. Then have the subluxations of your spine adjusted and get well.

Labor legislation.

The Chicago Herald, an independent paper, commenting on this law, said the statement of the National Child Labor Committee carried more conviction than the picking of a flaw during campaign time. That this committee was responsible for the law and assured the public that the law was not jammed through Congress and was framed by good constitutional lawyers and considered carefully for three years before passage.

These non-political, Republican, and independent statements effectually dispose of any campaign claim that the Child Labor Law was not wisely, honestly and thoroughly drawn and passed.

STAMMERING SELF-CURED

At about fifteen years of youth I was suddenly attacked by that absurd inability to start the sentence without stuttering over the beginning; the same difficulty came with certain letters in the middle of the sentence. Determined to get over this, I decided that the best way was to get round it. If stammering must be done it should be done silently. When the obstacle came—knowing that B must be said ten times before it reached "because" I said it to myself. This implied a certain deliberation of utterance. But the cure was complete. If you stammer, stammer in silence and then get off with your remark.—Selected.

FAKE POLLS

The New York Herald, in connection with the Cincinnati Enquirer, is publishing weekly what purports to be the result of a nation-wide poll of the probable vote in November. The poll is a fake throughout, and the Herald does not even dare to stand by its own figures. In Maryland Hughes has a trilling lead in the "votes" polled and the Herald promptly puts Maryland down for Hughes, although it is certain to go for Wilson. Even the Herald's own figures show Wilson leading in New York, but the Herald does not scruple to reject them and to declare Hughes to be certain of New York. As a matter of fact, all such polls are worthless. It is easy enough to canvass those already on your side and get a majority for your man. —Louisville Post.

NO SURRENDER TO FORCE

The action of President Wilson and Congress in enacting the eight-hour law was no surrender to force. Messrs. Hughes, Lodge, Roosevelt, Penrose, Pierpont Morgan and George W. Perkins may maintain that the administration surrendered to force, but that does not prove the fact.

The President and Congress had no controversy with either party to the threatened strike. The controversy was between the managers of the railroads and the men who ran the trains.

The effect of the strike would have been fearful. Everybody realized this. Telegrams from every part of the Union poured in on the President and Congressmen praying them to avert the strike.

The farmers' and fruit growers' products would have rotted for lack of transportation. The poor in cities would have suffered for food, for coal and other necessities. The manufacturers of the country, the whole business fabric would have collapsed. Universal distress and permanent loss of tremendous proportions would have resulted.

Such was the conditions the President faced—such the calamity he bravely and patriotically averted from the nation. Action, immediate action was demanded and immediate action was taken. Action that was a beneficence and a blessing to the country.

The opulent, sinister, special interests and persons seeking political capital may condemn the President, but the working men and women, those who would have borne the brunt of the loss and suffering, will not.

The controversy was settled right. Neither party to it would have submitted to a wrong settlement. The principle of arbitration, always maintained by the President, had no application to a point—that eight hours' labor constitutes a lawful day's work—already settled by the laws of nearly every state and the laws of the federal government in its relation to its own employees and those having contracts with it.

The only force exerted was the moral force of the President's right position backed by the sense and approval of the whole people. That was the only force yielded to, and the yielding was done by the railroad magnates, unless yielding to "see" was done by the seventy Republican congressmen who voted for the eight-hour law, and the Republican senators who could have prevented its passage but did not, nor made any effort to.

The railroads take the position that the question was not an "eight-hour day" but "ten hours' pay for eight hours' work." The "eight-hour day" never has meant, does not now mean that a man may leave his engine, drop his tools, quit work at the end of eight hours. It has always meant, it means now that when eight hours' work is done, one day's work ends and another begins.

President Wilson saved the country from the strike as he has preserved the country from war. The alternative the Republicans argue for is as worthless and as disastrous in one case as in the other.

MUST ANSWER

Justice Stafford, of the District of Columbia, has rendered a decision requiring Milton H. Smith, president, and other officials of the Louisville & Nashville railroad to answer questions propounded by the Interstate Commerce Commission regarding its political contributions. The court held the commission has the right to know about such contributions, not because of their political nature, but because they effect questions of the reasonableness of rates, and important questions of railroad accounting.

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. Don't worry too much about where the world is going to. The problem with all of us should be not to go too fast and how to slow up as we near the stations of life.

There is nothing more beautiful than to forget, except, perhaps to be forgotten.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Three Blue Grass Farms
In Montgomery County, Kentucky

As Executors of John R. Thomas' will, the undersigned will sell at Public Auction, on Monday, October 16, 1916

(County Court Day) at about one o'clock, at the Court House door, in Mt. Sterling, Ky., three farms, to-wit:

FIRST: The Roger Gatewood farm, containing about 110 acres, on the Spencer turnpike about 2½ miles from Mt. Sterling. The land is part of the original J. S. Gatewood farm, lying on the Mt. Sterling side of the Gatewood home, is in excellent condition, beautifully situated and can all be cultivated. At present it is all in grass except about 4 acres. Every acre will raise tobacco. Frame dwelling, good stock barn and other improvements. Within ½ mile of church and school.

SECOND: The Henry C. Graves farm of about 187 acres, about 7½ miles from Mt. Sterling, on the Howards Mill turnpike, the residence of the late John R. Thomas. The farm is in good condition and is well watered by Slate Creek and fine springs. The land is of good quality, much of which will raise tobacco. About 40 acres are in cultivation, the remainder in meadow and grass. The improvements consist of a splendid two-story frame dwelling of about 10 rooms; large combination tobacco and stock barn, crib, cabin, meat house, buggy house and other outbuildings, all in good repair. The residence and barn are supplied with water from the famous cold spring on the hill-top by means of a hydraulic ram. This is one of the most delightful homes in the county.

THIRD: A farm containing about 90 acres on Slate Creek, adjoining the Jacob See and Howard Howell lands, and near the Howards Mill turnpike. The said Howell land lies between this and the Graves farm described above. A small strip of land for a roadway to the pike belongs to this 90 acre farm. About 25 acres of it are in cultivation, the remainder in grass. It is well watered by Slate Creek and springs; a large part will raise tobacco; about 25 acres of Slate Creek bottom land.

These farms will be sold separately, and subject to survey at purchaser's expense, if he desires survey, each to the highest bidder, on terms of one-third cash, one-third in one year and one-third in two years, with interest on the deferred payments and liens on the lands to secure same. Further details will be given at time of sale. For further information call or address

THE WILSON POLICY

"The praises of this policy are not written in the ruins of American homes, not in the wreck of American industries, not in the mourning of American families; they are found in the myriad evidences of prosperity and plenty that make this a contented land. From every whirling spindle in America, from every factory wheel that turns, from every growing thing that breathes its prayer of plenty to the skies, from every quiet school, from every crowded mart, from every peaceful home goes up a song of praise, a paean of thanksgiving to hymn a nation's tribute to the statesmanship that has brought these things to pass."—Ex-Gov. Giynn at the St. Louis Convention, June, 1916.

THE COST CONGRESS

We attended the Cost Congress and Printers Convention held in Cincinnati, Ohio last week and feel more than repaid for our trip. The speakers were men of national reputations and we are sure that all left the convention feeling repaid and better prepared for their work than ever before. No expense was spared by those in charge to make the convention the best of its kind ever held and it was so voted by all present. The various phases of the printing industry were given careful attention and many a man will profit by the advice of the experts present.

The social side of the convention was not overlooked, the banquet at the Hotel Gibson being a most elaborate affair. The various supply houses and many business men presented souvenirs of all kinds to the delegates. Mr. C. S. Clark, of the Western Newspaper Union, was Chairman of the Convention Committee which is sufficient to say to those who know Mr. Clark. We have attended quite a number of conventions but never one so interesting, instructive and profitable or so ably conducted.

A COMPARISON

President Wilson has stood firmly against all corporation influence and has fought the good fight for the ordinary citizen. The administration of the anti-trust laws was never so vigorous and successful and the rights of labor have been generously recognized. Candidate Hughes, while Governor of New York, proved himself a "corporation-minded man." He vetoed the Two Cent a Mile Rate Bill for the New York railroads. He vetoed the Five Cent Fare Bill which provided for a single fare within city limits. He sent a message to the New York legislature opposing the ratification of the Income Tax, and it is not strange that among the contributors to his campaign fund in 1906 were such men as J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie, Charles M. Schwab, John W. Gates, W. E. Corey, W. Nelson Cromwell and B. M. Duke.

WALTON BUYS PAPER

Mr. E. C. Walton, of Stanford, last week purchased the Richmond Register from Mr. T. H. Pickles. We regret to see Mr. Pickles retire but welcome again Mr. Walton to the ranks of Kentucky newspaper men. Having been in the newspaper business for many years he will no doubt make a success of his new venture.

Do you know that over 600,000 people are now employed in industries founded by Thomas A. Edison.

Next week is being observed by many of these industries in recognition of Mr. Edison's scientific achievements.

We observe the week by giving an Edison recital every day at our store and also by making it possible for a certain number of people in this community to compete in the

THE NEW EDISON

We have set aside a limited number of these wonderful new instruments. They have been specially tested and will be placed in homes in this city on an absolutely free three days trial during Edison Week.

Those who secure the benefit of these Edison Week free trials will be eligible to the big $1,000 contest for the best opinions of the value of the New Edison in the home.

These opinions must not be over 200 words in length. Their literary quality does not count. Professional writers and all members of the phonograph trade are

What the Edison Company wants are the real heartfelt opinions of the people after they have heard this wonderful new instrument in their own homes.

The first prize is $500.

Second, $200.

THE INHERITED MEXICAN PROBLEM

The Republican campaigners, from the fault-finding Hughes down to the humblest cross-roads statesman, have nothing to say of the Mexican problems save during Wilson's administration. They carefully ignore everything before March 4, 1913, and one short, non-committal sentence covers all they dare say of the future if Hughes is elected.

They never mention the "humiliating" incident of the American citizen taking out a certificate of registration from the British Consulate at the City of Mexico to secure protection to his property. But this happened when Roosevelt, the Doughty, was President in 1908.

They never refer to the letter President Taft in 1911 wrote the Governor of Arizona, who had telegraphed him that unless the American government acted, the people of Douglas, Ariz., would have to vacate the town: "I cannot order the troops to cross the border, but must ask you and the local authorities, in case the danger occurs again, to direct the people of Douglas to place themselves where bullets cannot reach them."

If one finds cowardice in dealing patiently with Mexico, can he find anything more cowardly than this?

It was Senator Stone, Democrat, of Missouri, who first insisted that President Taft be authorized to employ force to restore order in Mexico, and it was Senator Root, Republican, of New York, the ablest champion of Hughes and a bitter critic of Wilson, who said then even a threat of force would be "to reverse the policy of the United States and take a step backward in the path of civilization." And Senator Lodge, Republican, of Massachusetts, backed him up.

The Mexican problem has been a national, not a party problem ever since the passing of Diaz. Able and honest men of both parties have agreed and disagreed over it—have agreed and disagreed with their own party heads over it. It should be dealt with by the people as it has been dealt with by our President—thoughtfully, conscientiously, justly.

There is going the rounds of the press now an article, "The Mexican Problem an Inheritance," which gives a full historical review of the matter. It should be read by all who wish for a fair statement of the Mexican problem.

ENCOURAGEMENT IN RIGHT DOING

We often wonder why it is that people, if they know any good of their neighbor, seem to think it their duty to keep the fact a secret never to be divulged until their neighbor has passed away and is laid in his grave, and then to be brought to light when it can be of no earthly benefit to him. It is not so with their faults, which all take more or less pleasure in magnifying before the public. Many a man has been driven to the dogs for the want of a little encouragement and a just recognition of his honest efforts to do right, that are not appreciated by his fellowmen. If people would take half the trouble to encourage others in well doing that they do to circulate everything they hear derogatory to them the world would be much better and many a man saved from becoming a criminal. Men whose good deeds are ignored by society and whose slightest fault is continually harped upon and magnified; soon lose all self respect and care nothing for society, because society cares nothing; but if it is no credit to right what encouragement have they to do better? One-half of the criminals in our jails and penitentiaries have been made such, in all probability, by the unkindness of their fellowmen, who have always stood ready to condemn every little offense, without stopping to inquire into the circumstances that may have caused the party to do wrong. We should put ourselves in our neighbor's place surrounded by the same circumstances, then we would be better able to judge and not have to wait till they are dead before we could say something good about them.

THROWING OFF ALL RESTRAINT

The German press in New York makes no bones in boasting that the German-American alliance stood with a solid front against Roosevelt's candidate for the United States senatorship in New York and that his defeat is due to their efforts, because the Colonel dared to show up their designs. These papers claim that they have defeated nearly every Republican for the nomination who voted for Mr. Wilson's foreign policies. They are backing Hughes with all their might, and he, fearing their opposition, is courting their support by pussyfooting when he ought to come out boldly against the disloyalists who put their native land over that of their adoption. The Republican party is in open partnership with this unholy alliance and Mr. Hughes accepts it by his failure to repudiate it. Vote for the man who has the courage to say that he neither fears the German conspirators nor seeks their favor. His election will be a victory for America, that of Hughes would be heralded and prized by the Kaiser as a victory for Germany and his theory of the divine right of kings to rule the world.—Franklin Favorite.

CHOATE'S TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Republican's Praise of President
Endorsed by Noted Editor.

Joseph H. Choate, ambassador to Great Britain in the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations, an ex-president of the American Bar Association, and long a leader of the American bar, and a leading Republican, writing in the Review of Reviews for January, 1915, paid high tribute to Wilson's administration's policies growing out of the war. He said:

"If we can maintain our neutrality and keep out of this war and at the same time prove ourselves friendly to all the nations engaged in it—as I think we shall under the wise and prudent conduct of President Wilson—the United States will, I believe, not only be called into consultation by the warring nations, when they are no longer able to keep up the fight, but will practically be able to dictate the terms of peace between them, one of which must, if possible, be an effectual guarantee against any future outbreak of the horrible spirit of militarism which has caused the present war."

"And I am encouraged in this belief by reading the recent message of President Wilson and the annual reports of the Secretaries of War and of the Navy, which, taken together, appear to show a steadfast determination on the part of our Federal Government to have us prepared always for effectual self-defense, which is a necessary condition of our national existence."

"Of course, the end of this war will see us by far the most powerful nation in the world, and if the policy pointed out by Secretary Daniels is pursued, we shall perhaps in the fullness of time become ourselves the mistress of the seas without incurring hostility or attack from any nation, and shall be the great factor of preserving universal peace."

Commenting editorially on Mr. Choate's letter, the editor of the Review of Reviews says:

"Surely, there is no more approved friend of international peace in our country than the Hon. Joseph H. Choate. Read then, what he writes in this number of the Review on our need of efficient means of national defense. He is in perfect agreement with what President Wilson has set forth in his message to Congress of December 8th. For our part, President Wilson's words seem statesmanlike and noble. They are wholly compatible with strict and efficient attention to the business of getting the best results out of the vast expenditures for army and navy that are met by the taxpayers."

STATE AID ROADS

The report issued by the State Inspector and Examiner upon the investigation of the expenditures, business methods and conditions connected with the building of State Aid Roads in Lewis county should be read by all conservative friends of road building throughout the State. It should serve not only as a rebuke to the Lewis county officials but as a warning to those in many other counties who have charge of the road building fund. Many counties have voted large bond issues to be expended on the roads and if those whose duty it is to guard this fund, allow it to become dissipated through carelessness, graft or poor business methods it will be a long time before the people will vote for another bond issue. If the people's money is to be wasted by political grafters and by mismanagement it will take a long time to again arouse the public sentiment and enthusiasm for good roads which has swept the State.—Bluegrass Clipper.

NOT NOW AT ANY RATE

Mr. Hughes says the Republican party has been the party of national honor. It will be observed that he speaks in the past tense. He certainly cannot speak of it in the present when 100 per cent. candidate is cuddling with the hyphenates and a good majority of its members of Congress including Leader Mann voted for the McLeanmore resolution to surrender American rights on the high seas to Germany. Mr. Hughes is right, if the Republican party was ever the party of national honor it was in the dim and distant past.—Winchester Sun.

BELIEVED CHECKED

Notification by the Public Health Service to State health authorities of children under 16 leaving New York instituted during the infantile paralysis epidemic, was discontinued in Washington last week and 25 health officers who have been fighting the disease in New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia were withdrawn. PEACE AND QUIET

The editor was dying, and a sigh came from his breast:
"Please bury me, my friends, where I will find eternal rest,
I long for peace and quiet, so, when I have closed my eyes,
Just plant me in some store in which they do not advertise."
—Luke McLuke.

Candidate Hughes has found an issue. As the Cynthiana Democrat aptly puts it, it is: "No matter what it is, if Wilson did it, it's wrong."

"With Excess Uric Acid in Your System You Can Never Be Free From Rheumatism"

Why? Because any exposure to cold, drafts, dampness or nervous shocks chills your blood; it strangles the uric acid crystals and forms deposits of needle-like particles which lodge in the joints and tissues. Intense pain and Rheumatism. It was precisely for just this condition that Kampfmüller's Rheumatic Remedy was conceived.

In a perfectly harmless way it acts as an eliminating agency. The excess uric acid crystals are dissolved; they are carried off through the bowels and kidneys; inflammation and swelling go down quickly. When your system is entirely freed of the excess of this poison you are cured!

If voters are asked to vote if we shall have the poor house again or not. Of course we always have the poor and needy and widows and orphans among us that must be helped, and a good deal of money is paid out of the county treasury for their maintenance, why not have a home for them?
